Product overview

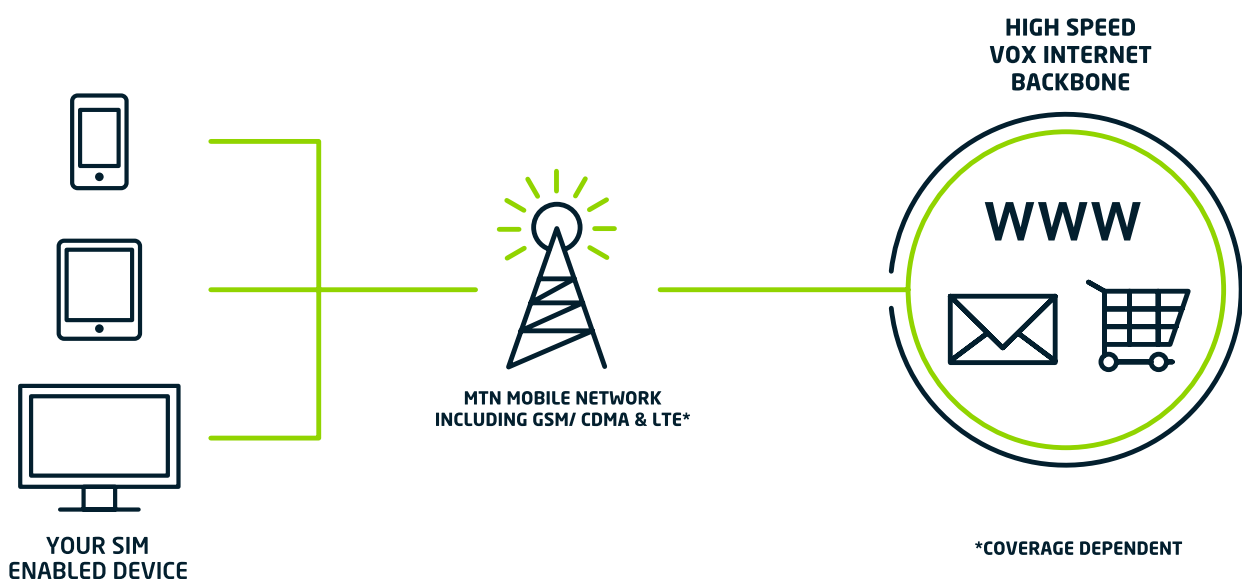

As a business owner or a private individual, you need to be able to access the internet wherever you are, whenever you want. Vox's Mobile Data solution gives you the freedom to connect anywhere in South Africa. Use Vox Mobile Data to connect your laptop, smartphone, tablet, dongle and security systems.

Choose between contract or month-to-month options; link up to 10 SIM cards to one account (depending on the product), and always manage your usage and billing from the user-friendly online Customer Zone.

Vox Mobile Data encourages communication between your business and team members - where distance no longer becomes a factor - in turn, increasing productivity and lowering costs. Choose between month-to-month or contract, single SIM and multiple SIM packages, depending on your requirements.

How it works
