

Uncapped, unshaped wireless broadband for SMEs

Webstorm Wireless

An end-to-end wireless service that will have you connected the moment your service is installed

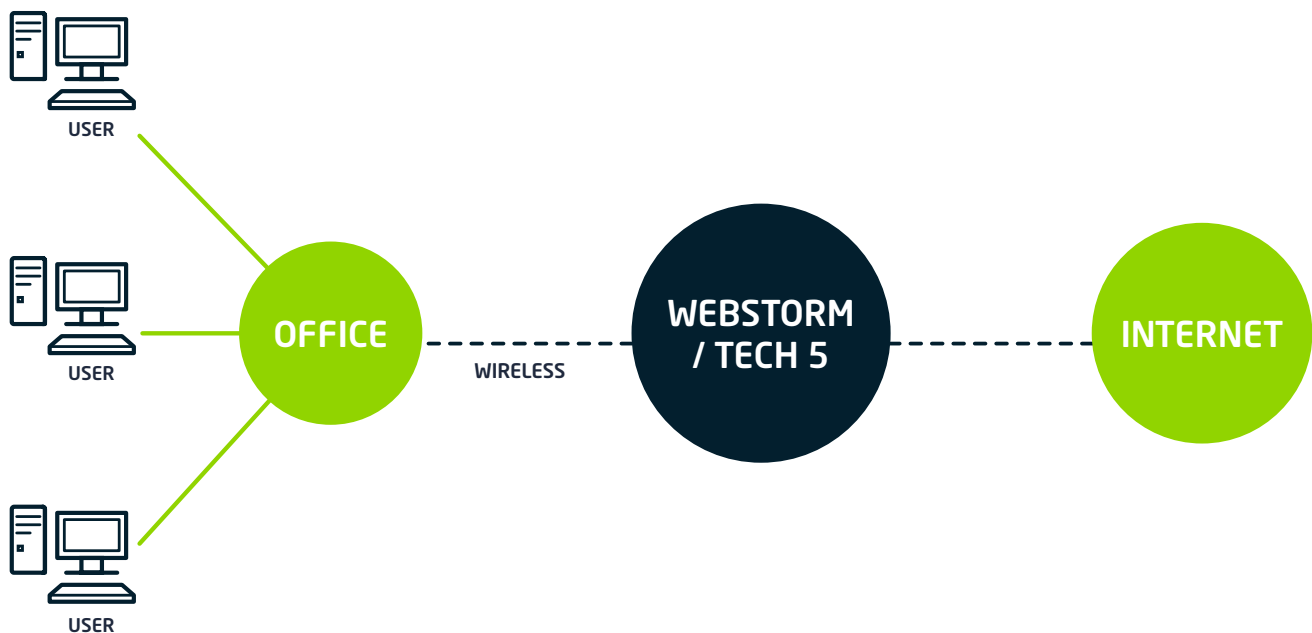

- Scalable, reliable and cost-effective
- Simple integration into your LAN
- Asymmetrical bandwidth
- Consistent, uncapped and unshaped broadband internet
- Quick deployment

Product overview

Webstorm Wireless, powered by Tech5, is a broadband internet service designed specifically for SOHOs. Webstorm Wireless is an affordable, contended best effort, uncapped, unshaped access service that is both flexible and scalable. It offers the capability to grow with your business and can be upgraded as and when you require.

Access packages are configured to suite business requirements from 1 Mbps to 8 Mbps. The asymmetrical bandwidth is burstable for all internet traffic (both local and international). Vox does not offer an SLA or SMTP relay with this product offering. Consumers have a choice between 2 Mbps to 8 Mbps with a fair usage policy.

How it works
