Product overview

Residential security applications are increasingly adopting self monitoring services that allow for peace of mind. Guardian Eye Home from Vox, is a self-managed day / night 4 or 8 camera solution that can be used for home security monitoring. With remote access to live footage and motion detection functionality, it allows for immediate verification to make a decision to alert armed response, negate a false alarm or allow entry to visitors.

Being a fully cabled installation, Guardian Eye Home is a HD CCTV solution that enables you to set up scheduled recordings when you are away from home. The day / night capability offers superior picture quality, even with low light conditions. With built in memory you are able to record 24x7 or based only on motion detection which reduces the time to find key footage.
