

The Vox My Family Bundle

Here's an exciting family collaboration solution for you!

Why get the My Family Bundle?

The Solution allows you to create your own personalised email addresses. Get the modern version of the family crest - a family email domain linked to your email address, for example: John@smithfamily.co.za. Our bundle includes five 1GB mailboxes for all members of the household.

Some of the exciting benefits include:

- Your own personalised family email.
- A separate email platform without links means confidential communication with your family.
- Shared calendars, so that mom always knows when to pick up the kids from soccer practice.
- Document sharing to upload and share documents amongst family members.
- Online chat functionality for those quick, last minute "honey please pick up milk on your way home" moments.
- Easily add on more mailboxes, or upgrade them if you need more storage, anytime.

Get the family a new legacy

Normal selling price is R69 per month, but Vox is offering our FTTH customers a discounted rate of R29 per month until the end of July 2020. That's a saving of 57%!
