Let us manage the hassle of printer management

Managed Print

- Office grade equipment at consumer prices
- Rental model available
- Onsite warranty service
- Discounted cartridge replacement
- Access to Vox engineers for other home office support
- 24/7 support

Product Overview

For most business professionals, work from home (WFH) is the new normal.

A new era has emerged when it comes to working patterns, with the increased need for flexibility that bridges the gap between home and traditional office workspaces. The office will be reinvented to include professional services at home.

Traditional home printers are not designed for the requirements of the modern professional. Printing, Copying, Scanning and faxing are all critical features. In addition, trying to print work volumes on a home printer will result in huge toner bills.

The Vox KYOCERA Print Solution brings all the benefits of an office solution at consumer pricing levels.

Main Features and Benefits

• Remote support

All KYOCERA printers come standard with remote management software that allows our engineers monitor all your devices from anywhere, receive direct device notifications and quickly identify issues that need attention. Remotely troubleshoot key maintenance tasks on KYOCERA devices, including firmware upgrades and setting adjustments, and repair without the need for coming onsite. This means support calls are dealt with in minutes rather than days.

• Advanced Maintenance Plan

All KYOCERA printers come standard with a 3-year -100 000 prints manufacturer warranty backed up by a National footprint of Kyocera repair centers. In addition, our optional advanced maintenance plan sends engineers to your premises next business day when a warranty call is activated.

• Flexible payment models

Vox offers flexible payment models including once-off purchase and 12, 24- & 36-months rentals

• Feature Rich Functionality

All printer models are laser print which means less downtime and significant savings on toner costs.

All models are multi-functional allowing users to print, copy, fax and scan.
