Product Overview

Shared web hosting is a thing of the past. The trade-off with low cost is often slow speeds, downtime and security risks. Unlike shared web hosting, our premium WordPress offering is a solution for customers that require better performance, uptime and scalability.

The boom in e-commerce means your website is the face of your business, and is often the first experience customers have of your organisation. Traditionally, shared web hosting splits resources across multiple customers making it impossible to deliver a guaranteed level of service.

Vox premium WordPress hosting offers the following:
- Dedicated hosting infrastructure
- High-speed storage, ensures premium performance
- Built on the Vox Internet network
- Guaranteed performance with the ability to upgrade when required
- Monthly Website Vulnerability Assessments identify risks
- Ongoing backups to ensure you don't lose your website
- Enabled caching for static content
- Locally hosted servers with 99.9% uptime guarantee
