Product Overview

A well-known fact is that Cyber-attacks present a high impact, high likelihood risk to businesses throughout the world. A lesser known fact is that more than 50% of Cyber-attacks are perpetrated on small to medium sized businesses, and that South Africa has the third highest number of Cyber-crime attacks worldwide. Of these attacks, 95% start with an email. Not having the correct tools in place or not configuring them correctly makes these attacks more successful.

The effects of such a debilitating attack range from financial loss to reputational damage and, as targeted security attacks grow exponentially, combating this criminal activity is becoming a critical element of every business strategy.

Small business, the driver of economic growth in our country, faces two challenges in effectively protecting against Cyber-attacks, namely:

- Navigating this specialist field and ultimately selecting all the required Cyber Security building blocks to ensure comprehensive protection.

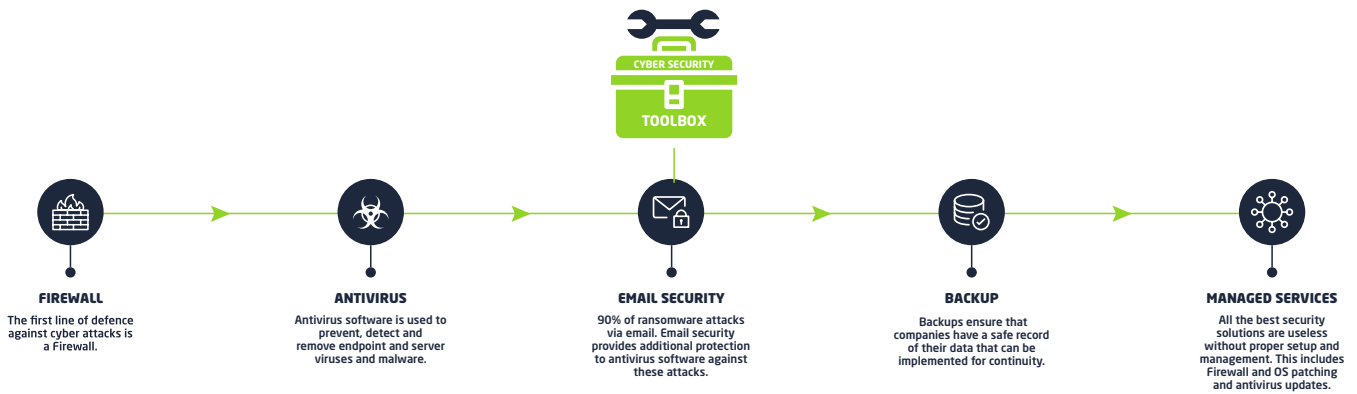

- Being able to afford this – sometimes costly but crucial – Cyber Security ecosystem.

A comprehensive and reliable Cyber Security umbrella has the following five essential and interdependent elements:

- Firewall
- Anti-virus
- Email Security
- Backup
- Managed Security Services

For most small businesses, implementing all these components can be prohibitively expensive - the Vox IT Security Toolbox is specifically for customers with 20 users or less and reduces the equivalent monthly charges by 30% while providing comprehensive IT protection with world-class technology for R2 262 per month. Or try our 40-user package with FortiGate 60F Firewall for R3 381 per month.
