- Consult with your legal and IT experts to determine the best approach to resolving these issues.

Product Overview

Nearly every business has personal information about their staff and their clients. In fact, policies like FICA actually demand that we gather and keep personal and financial Data about our clients. But what happens if we misuse or lose this Data? The new Protection of Personal Information Act (PoPIA) has introduced conditions around how we process and store personal information. These conditions, if not met, can lead to a fine, imprisonment, or both. For this very reason, it is important that one understands PoPIA and whether you have the right processes and controls in place to protect your company and your Data.

Vox offers a PoPIA readiness assessment service with the following options:

1. Conduct an Information Audit to determine:
  - The categories of personal information your organisation processes.
  - Why it is processed (what's the purpose?)
  - Where and how you store the personal information.
  - Who you share personal information with.
2. Appoint or work with an Information Officer.
3. Conduct an Organisational Impact assessment.
4. Create an awareness guideline for the organisation and staff.
5. Run a Posture Assessment.
6. Run security assessments to see how easily Data can be compromised by third parties or internally.
7. Recommend improvements.
8. Offer on-going monitoring and reporting of your Data compliance.
