Product Overview

Vox Wi-Fi Home Manager is an easy-to-use mobile app that, when paired with software installed on your router, gives you full Wi-Fi network management, parental control, threat detection and device management.

A standard broadband router is no longer enough to keep up with the growing demands of home Wi-Fi networks, which can create performance, security, and management problems.

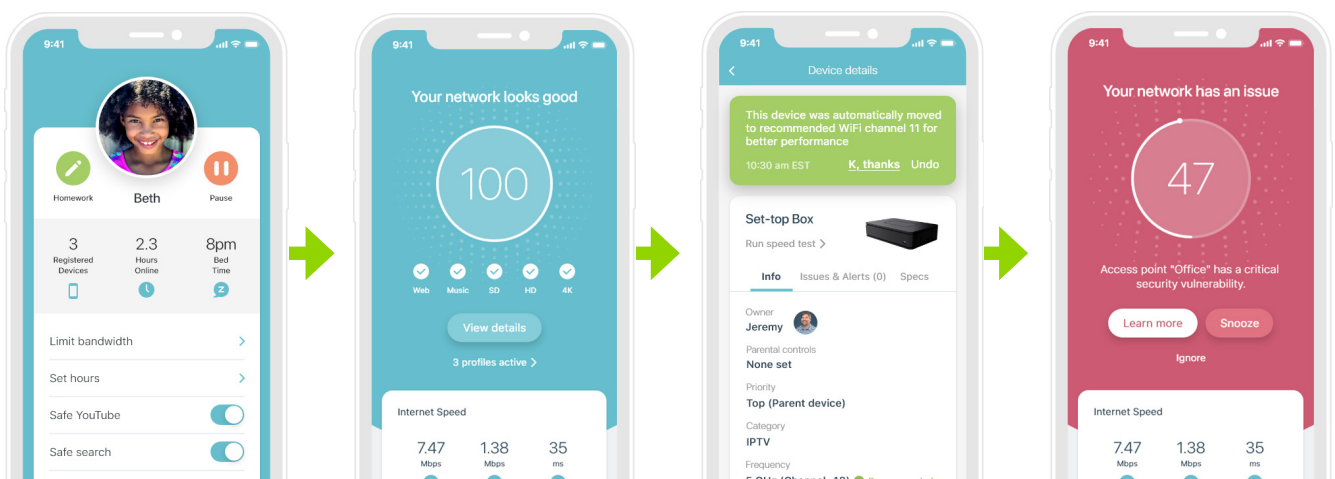

With Vox Wi-Fi Home Manager, you can protect your family and your home while improving your Wi-Fi experience from a single app to easily monitor and limit Internet usage and protect your devices from malicious content.

How it Works
